with the World

Dear partners and friends,

As the song says, "time goes by." It feels like yesterday that Cinema do Brasil made its very first appearance at the European Film Market. It was February 2006, and the market was still held in a building near Potsdamer Platz. At that time, Brazil was not yet a significant presence – or even a visible player – in the international film market. Through a partnership with ApexBrasil, we began this journey with a clear goal: to place Brazilian cinema firmly on the international stage. Nearly twenty years later, it is a great pleasure to celebrate Cinema do Brasil's continued presence at EFM, reaffirming our long-standing commitment to promoting Brazilian cinema and strengthening international collaboration.

Cinema do Brasil is an export promotion program developed by SIAESP (Union Producers Guild) in partnership with ApexBrasil (Brazilian Trade and Investment Promotion Agency). Since 2006, the program has supported Brazilian audiovisual companies in their internationalization process by fostering business opportunities, encouraging co-productions, strengthening professional networks, and positioning Brazilian cinema as a creative and competitive force in the global market.

Brazilian cinema is experiencing an outstanding moment. In 2025, I'm Still Here made history by winning the Academy Award for Best International Feature Film – the first Oscar win for Brazil in this category. This remarkable year was further marked by The Blue Trail (O Último Azul) receiving the Silver Bear – Grand Jury Prize at the Berlin International Film Festival, one of the festival's most prestigious awards, alongside several other international recognitions during the Berlinale.

This year, Brazil is represented by 10 films selected across different sections of the Berlin International Film Festival, reflecting the diversity, creativity, and consistency of our filmmakers. In parallel, the industry celebrates another important milestone with five Academy Award nominations, further highlighting the growing global recognition of Brazilian cinema.

At EFM, this catalog brings together 56 Brazilian companies actively presenting new projects, seeking partnerships, and engaging in meaningful dialogue with the international industry. This edition also counts on the partnership of Spcine and InvestSP, reinforcing the institutional support for Brazilian audiovisual companies in the international market.

Cinema do Brasil is proud to support these professionals and to serve as a bridge between Brazil and the global audiovisual market.

We warmly invite you to discover the projects and talents featured in this catalog and to connect with Brazilian cinema during EFM 2026.

Kind regards,

André Sturm

Chairman

Established in 2006 by São Paulo's Audiovisual Industry Guild (SIAESP) in collaboration with the Brazilian Trade and Investment Promotion Agency (ApexBrasil), Cinema do Brasil stands as a unique export program. Our mission is to fortify and broaden the presence of Brazilian audiovisual productions on the global stage, fostering the growth of co-productions and the widespread distribution of Brazilian films overseas. We serve as a platform for over 95 production companies, distribution companies, agent sales, and festivals, offering them opportunities to connect with the international market.

ABOUT APEXBRASIL

The Brazilian Trade and Investment Promotion Agency (ApexBrasil) works to promote Brazilian products and services abroad and attract foreign investments to strategic sectors of the Brazilian economy.

In order to achieve its goals, ApexBrasil carries out several trade promotion initiatives aimed at promoting Brazilian products and services abroad, such as prospective and trade missions, business rounds, support to the participation of Brazilian companies in major international fairs, visits of foreign buyers and opinion makers to learn about the Brazilian productive structure, among other business platforms that also aim at strengthening the Brazil brand.

The Agency also acts in a coordinated way with public and private players to attract foreign direct investment (FDI) to Brazil with a focus on strategic sectors for the development of the competitiveness of Brazilian companies and the country.

Created in 2001 by Provisional Measure 2228-1, ANCINE – National Film Agency is a regulatory agency responsible for promoting, regulating, and supervising the film and audiovisual market in Brazil. It is a special autonomous agency linked to the Ministry of Culture, with headquarters and jurisdiction in the Federal District, and a Central Office in Rio de Janeiro.

ANCINE is run by a collegiate board approved by the Senate, composed of a CEO and three directors, and operates in all links of the sector's production chain, encouraging private investment so that more national and independent audiovisual products are seen by an increasing number of Brazilians.

According to the 2024-2027 Strategic Plan, the Agency's mission is to promote a balanced regulatory environment and develop the Brazilian audiovisual sector for the benefit of society.

THE GIRL WHO BLED WOMAN

A MENINA QUE SANGROU MULHER

PROJECT • BRAZIL • 120' • DRAMA

In the countryside of Bahia, Dinha (13) is convinced by her father, Seu Alaide (52), to marry her sister's widower, Aurélio (38). Her father tricks her with gifts and the promise that she will be able to play with her "cousin-nephews" every day. However, once married, the reality is far different, and the girl's only solace is knowing that she won't have to move into her husband's bedroom until she menstruates. When the inevitable happens, Dinha bribes Idália (16), the house's wet nurse, to hide her bloodstained cloths. She then devises a plan: act like a small child to avoid doing with her husband what makes women bleed.
